FORGIVENESS, HEALING, AND WHOLENESS

“If you could turn back the clock would you fly back and change the past? Of course, we cannot change what we have said and done, or the actions of others – but we can change the way the past and present live in us.

Knowingly or unknowingly, we are all creating a world within our heart, a world destined to outlast the seemingly objective world outside. The inner world becomes a Garden to the degree in which old enmities are transformed by means of fortifying insight, the circulation of life’s vital sap heals our most enduring of wounds, guilt dissolves and coagulates as wisdom and acceptance, and the body-mind-soul nexus is made lucid and whole in the light of the All-Encompassing One.”
